2019 OAKBANK EASTER RACING CARNIVAL

Review

Mark Angus South Australian Jumps Racing

It's probably fair to say that the 2019 Oakbank Easter Racing Carnival was all about Zed Em. Patrick Payne's 8-year-old, winner of both the Von Doussa and Great Eastern Steeplechases in 2018, was looking to go back-to-back in the two features, and so there was considerable anticipation as to how he would perform as the biggest jumping races in South Australia approached.

Following on from the new format established in 2018, the Von Doussa Steeplechase was run on Sunday 7 April, before the Easter Carnival proper began. Having won this much coveted race in both 2017 and 2018, Zed Em (69 kg) was looking to become the first horse to win three consecutive Von Doussa Steeplechases since Chocolate Royal (1978-80). At the same time, Patrick Payne was aiming for his fourth win in the race, and jockey Steven Pateman his fifth.

As the race unfolded, the result was never really in doubt. Settling in behind the leaders Zataglio and Doc Holliday for much of the first circuit, Steven Pateman positioned his mount in prime position on the rails, and from the off the champion chaser looked in a good rhythm, jumping Oakbank's famous hedges in his usual economical style.

Zed Em then moved up alongside the leader Zataglio as they passed the judge for the first time, and in response Martin Kelly looked to extend Eric Musgrove's seasoned campaigner in an attempt to shake off Pateman and Zed Em. However, the Kiwi wasn't going anywhere, and kept up the pressure on Zataglio until eventually taking the lead at the top of the hill the second time around.

Once in front, Steven Pateman's Oakbank experience came to the fore, and the moment the leader cleared the last he went hard for home, quickly managing to establish a break on the rest of the field before they had a chance to settle, and then going on to win by about four lengths. Grant Young's Spying On You, the iron horse of Australian jumps racing, finished off the race strongly as he always does with Tom Ryan aboard, ahead of Simon Wilde's Doc Holliday (Paul Hamblin) in third.

This win was the second leg of a Payne/Pateman double on Von Doussa Day, after Killarney Kid (68 kg) was an impressive winner in the 3200m Thomas Farms Hurdle. Pateman was the epitome of patience on the odds-on favourite, and was content to settle well towards the rear of the field of six for much of the first circuit. Nick Smart's October Date (ridden by Richard Cully) and Tom Ryan on Exalted Lightning had established a break and managed to get out about five lengths clear as they passed the winning post first time around.

However, by the time they had got back to where they started the field had begun to bunch and only five or six lengths separated first from last, although the favourite still brought up the rear. As they headed up the back straight, Steven Pateman began to edge up along the rail, and by the time they jumped the last of the treble, Killarney Kid was in prime position behind the leader on the inside.

Richard Cully was putting in a bold, front running ride on October Date, but as they turned for home Steven Pateman wound up the favourite and despite the 9-year-old being a little scratchy over the penultimate jump, he cruised down the straight to take the race by about four lengths, from a strong finishing Murphy's Delight in second and Casiraghi in third.

As attention turned to the Great Eastern Steeplechase on Saturday 20 April, it was clear that Zed Em was again going to be the horse to beat (especially as he was carrying 68 kg, 1 kg less than in the Von Doussa), and Patrick Payne's runner was priced at an almost unbackable $1.20.

Taking a different approach to that they adopted in the Von Doussa, Steven Pateman took the Kiwi straight to the front, and he cleared the first about three lengths in front. Zed Em again looked to be in a smooth, fluid rhythm and the 8-year-old was bowling along in front as they completed the first circuit.

However, as they crossed the Shillabeer Road for the second time, Nick Smart's Getting Leggie, with Rob David aboard, loomed up alongside the leader and headed him as they reached the Fallen Log. Meanwhile, Tom Ryan, who had been content to let the 2017 Great Eastern winner Spying On You race alone at the rear for much of the race, now started to close the gap on the rest of the field of five.

Getting Leggie's challenge appeared to be short-lived as Zed Em had regained his place at the head of the field by the time they cleared the treble at the top of the hill, but he kicked on once more and pulled alongside Zed Em again as they cleared the last fence on the second circuit.

With a lap to go, the field had bunched up, with only about six lengths separating first from last. Novice chaser Doc Holliday (Daryl Horner Jr) in third and Oakbank stalwart Undergroundfighter (Lee Horner) in fourth, along with Spying On You at the rear, had all jumped well, and a tight finish was in prospect.

Steven Pateman began to pick up the pace on the leader as they climbed the hill for the final time, and in a flash had extended his lead to about three lengths. However, his rivals weren't to be shaken off lightly, and by the time they reached the Fallen Log on the final lap, the field had bunched up again, before Rob David on Getting Leggie was unfortunately unseated with four jumps to go. As they crossed the Shillabeer Road for the last time, Tom Ryan began to make his move on Spying On You, and the Von Doussa runner-up looked to be in a position to make a challenge for a second Great Eastern win in three years.

However, the class of Zed Em began to show, so Pateman took full advantage and began to set out for home with two to jump. The Kiwi cleared the last about five lengths in front, with Ryan and Spying On You, now in second, looking to be the only viable challenger. Despite the local horse's gallant attempts to chase down Zed Em in the straight, the leader was too strong and crossed the line about five lengths in front of a strong finishing Spying On You, and Tony Rosolini's perennial favourite Undergroundfighter in third.

Five feature wins at Oakbank in three years is a remarkable achievement, and undoubtedly places Zed Em in the top rank of chasers seen at this famous jumping course in modern times.

The other feature race on Easter Saturday was the Classic Hurdle (formerly known as the Harry D Young Hurdle), and there was controversy before the race even began, with the late scratching on stewards' advice of the red-hot favourite Killarney Kid, who had won so convincingly at Oakbank thirteen days before. This made it a much more even betting race, with Eric Musgrove's Murphy's Delight ($1.95) and local trainer Barry Brook's Ivan Grozny ($2.60) leading the market.

Despite the small field, it proved to be a good quality race run at a good pace and with a thrilling finish. Richard Cully on Ivan Grozny led the field over the first and was setting a good pace, so much so that the field of five became a little strung out as they jumped the treble up the back straight. However, it had closed up once more by the time they passed the post at the end of the first lap, with Ivan Grozny still out in front, but the 9-year-old was now being challenged by Murphy's Delight.

The field became tightly bunched once more as they headed into the back straight. Lee Horner and Murphy's Delight appeared to be sweating off on the leader Ivan Grozny, just waiting to make a move with three to jump. However, Casiraghi (Rob David) and Zuhayr (Paul Hamblin) were not going to be left behind and, in a sight to warm the heart of any jumps racing fan, four in a line jumped the second last together in the home straight.

In the end, it was Grant Young's Casiraghi who finished the strongest, clearing the last in front and going on to win by about 1 1/2 lengths from a gallant Murphy's Delight, with Tony Rosolini picking up another place finish in an Oakbank feature when Zuhayr finished in third.

The jumping continued on Easter Monday (22 April), and there was another success for South Australian horses when Searaven, trained at Oakbank by Barry Brook and ridden by Richard Cully, took out the 3250m Thomas Farms Steeplechase, ahead of Aldous (Steven Pateman having some Oakbank success as a trainer this time), and Pentomatic in third.

In the 3200m Ecycle BM120 Hurdle, it was the turn of Oakbank maestro Eric Musgrove, with fast improving hurdler Mr One Eleven winning convincingly by 10 lengths with Steven Pateman aboard, beating out another from the Musgrove stable Beyond Thankful (Will Gordon), while another SA horse, Cable Bay, trained by Shane Oxlade, finished in third.

Overall, the 2019 Oakbank Easter Racing Carnival provided three days of high quality jumps racing, with the crowd privileged to be able to witness at first hand a genuine chasing star in Zed Em. Thanks must go to the horse's New Zealand connections for their continued enthusiastic support of Oakbank, and the jumps racing fraternity in South Australia very much hopes to be able to welcome them all back again next year.

It was also an extremely encouraging sign that two of the six jumps races at Oakbank this year were won by South Australian trainers — Grant Young and Barry Brook — while the strong performances of the locally trained Spying on You, who finished second behind Zed Em in both of this year's feature steeplechases, should also be acknowledged.

The Committee at Oakbank Racing Club (ORC), along with South Australian Jumps Racing (SAJR), remains committed to hurdle and steeplechase racing in SA, and thanks its loyal supporters both here and interstate who continue to make the Easter Racing Carnival one of Australia's premier jumps race meetings. 🐎

Another MAGICAL WEEK AT THE 'BOOL

PIC - Racing Victoria

The stunning win of Zed Em in the Grand Annual Steeplechase (5500m) cemented his reputation as one of the best-performed steeplechasers to have ever raced in Australia and was the highlight of another magical week at the 'Bool. The win brought the eight-year-old's overall jumps record to 20 starts for 13 wins and five placings. Incredibly, in his past 13 jumps starts Zed Em has won nine steeplechases and finished second four times. The Grand Annual was tailor-made for the $2.70 favourite as he was able to take a sit behind the leader Newbury for much of the race. With his clean jumping and renowned stamina Zed Em was able to surge to the lead about 700 metres from home, and not even last year's champion Gold Medals could catch him at the finish.

Zed Em's 70kg is the heaviest impost carried to victory in the Annual since champion jumper The Feline carried 11st 7lb (73kg) in 1950, and betters the metric weight-carrying records of Al Garhood (69kg, 2011) and Planet Hollywood (68.5kg, 1999). Since Agricolo became the last of seven horses to have won with 12 stone (76kg) or more in 1926, only four horses had won with 11 stone (70kg) or more – and until this year none had done so since The Feline.

The compressed weight scale, which saw Zed Em carry only 6kg above the minimum, meant that many punters considered him to be something of a good thing at the weights. However, this is to take nothing away from his achievement in an era when compressed weight scales are the norm in handicap races, including Group 1 flat races. This is a far cry from the sensational 1909 Grand Annual, in which every runner met with some sort of mishap, when Pilot carried the heaviest weight in the history of the race, 13st 4lb (84.5kg), but failed to finish.

It takes a special horseman to win the Annual, and the winning trainer is often someone who has an obsession with the race. Patrick Payne has constructed a mini-replica Grand Annual course on his property and he now joins Ciaran Maher and Jim Houlihan as four-time winners of the race. Payne and Maher have "owned" the Annual in recent times, having won eight of the past 10, and next year we might find out which of them can become the first to equal John Wheeler's record five wins.

Champion jumps jockey Steve Pateman was thrilled to again win the Annual, saying after the race "The Grand Annual is the most special race to win for a jumps jockey. It's our Melbourne Cup and it's bigger than that with me."

The other feature jumping races were again highly entertaining. Ciaran Maher, now training in partnership with David Eustace, won his fourth Brierly Steeple with Bit Of A Lad, to go with his quartet of Grand Annuals. Having grown up in the area and started his training career at Warrnambool, Maher loves to win the feature jumps races at the carnival. Bit Of A Lad's win had a dramatic prequel, when one of his part owners collapsed earlier in the day and had to be flown to Geelong for surgery. His only complaint was that he did not get to see his horse run in the Brierly!

The following day Maher scored his first win in the Galleywood Hurdle, with Big Blue. The gelding, which had won a 3000-metre listed race in France and last October won the $500,000 ATC St Leger (2600m) at Randwick, was only Maher's third starter in the race. Maher is only the third trainer since the inception of the Galleywood in 1995 to have won the Brierly, the Galleywood and the Annual - putting him in the elite company of Jim Houllahan and Eric Musgrove.

Musgrove supplied the placegetters in this year's Galleywood and earlier in the day won the BM120 Restricted Steeplechase with the $61 outsider Pentomatic. This restricted race has provided a thrilling spectacle and dramatic finish in the two years since it was reinstated to Wednesday's programme. It was Musgrove's 29th carnival winner, more than any other current trainer.

With the jumps races over, the win of Furrrion in the feature flat event of the carnival saw John Allen become the first rider to have won more than one Grand Annual and more than one Warrnambool Cup. The success of this year's carnival and the planned $4.9 million Matilda Room extensions bode well for another wonderful week at the 'Bool in 2020. 🐾

SPYING ON YOU

Australia's Most Underrated Jumper

Mark Angus South Australian Jumps Racing

*Spying On You with Tom Ryan at Oakbank, Great Eastern Steeple Trials, 2018
PIC- Tait Schmaal.*

Despite being recognised as Australia's Most Consistent Jumping Horse in 2016 at the AJRA Mosstrooper Awards, and having a record over the past four seasons of which many other chasers would be justifiably proud, it can nevertheless be argued that when the big races come around, Grant Young's Spying On You tends to get overlooked by most observers in both the build up and the betting.

Whether this is a consequence of being trained in South Australia and so not always being in the media spotlight is hard to say, but there is a fair case to be made that Spying On You is currently Australia's most underrated (and under appreciated) steeplechaser.

Whatever the reason for his being largely unheralded, by any standards the improvement the 9-year-old has made over the past five seasons is outstanding, and this is combined with a consistency and a surety in his jumping that are testimony to Young's ability to keep jumping horses performing at their peak for extended periods of time.

Early on, it would have taken a very astute judge indeed to be able to spot Spying On You's jumping potential.

Although he won a maiden hurdle at Bendigo in September 2014 in only his second jumps start under previous trainer Russell Cameron (in a race in which none of the five others in the field went on to have especially stellar jumping careers), in subsequent jumps races that season he showed little promise of what was to come, with a best result being 3rd place in a BM120 hurdle race at Bendigo (in which he was beaten by Vatuvei and Zataglio).

Grant Young then took on the horse in 2015, and progress was relatively slow at first, finishing 6th in a hurdle at Morphettville carrying 64 kg in July, before being pulled up in the SA Grand National Steeple in August and then finishing 3rd in the Irish Steeple (behind Zataglio and King Triton). However, later that season signs of Spying On You's toughness and appetite for work began to be apparent when he won a 2,200 m race on the flat at Murray Bridge in September, and followed this up with a convincing win in a 3,600 m steeplechase at Coleraine just four days later.

2016 was the breakout season for Spying On You and the year in which he was rightly rewarded with national recognition.

A 2nd place finish in the steeplechase at the Oakbank prelude meeting was then followed by a 4th in the Von Doussa (he fell in the Great Eastern, the only fall to date in his jumps career). In April, he then ran 2nd in a chase at Gawler, won over fences at Mt Gambier in May, before place finishes in the SA Grand National Steeplechase and over hurdles at Morphettville in September. (In between these was also a disappointing 7th in the Australian Steeplechase, when he looked well set with two to jump but, unusually for him, seemed unable to stay the distance.) Overall, although there was only one win during the season, his consistency was there for all to see and a sign of things to come.

In 2017, Spying On You recorded his first win in a major Australian jumps race when he won the Great Eastern Steeplechase at Oakbank with Tom Ryan aboard (a relationship which has proved to be a very fruitful one for the pair). This was the first win in the state's premier chase by a SA-trained horse since 2003 and was for Grant Young was a special milestone, as he had previously won the race as a jockey on Bruskin in 2000. There were only two more starts over obstacles in 2017, both of which indicated Spying On You was in need of a spell, and which were duly followed by a six-month lay off.

Refreshed, the gelding's good form continued into 2018, where two early wins on the flat (over 2,200 and 2,400 m) were followed by a win over hurdles at Gawler in February. However, 2018 was in many ways a season of near misses for Spying On You. Solid performances at Oakbank, where he ran fourth in both the Von Doussa and the Great Eastern, were followed by a 3rd in the Grand Annual (in what turned out to be the second epic tussle between Gold Medals and Zed Em in three days). Sadly, he was then brought down when well in contention at the second last in the Australian Steeplechase at Sandown in May, and was then agonisingly beaten by a nose by Sea King in a thrilling Grand National at Ballarat in August.

However, the important statistic that largely went unnoticed from Spying On You's 2018 jumps campaign was the fact that he won over $100,000 in prize money in Victorian races alone, a feat that not many SA jumpers have come close to matching in recent years.

Although it is still early in the season, in 2019 Spying On You has already put together another string of consistently strong performances, including second in both the Von Doussa and Great Eastern at Oakbank, and third in the Grand Annual at Warrnambool in May (all behind Zed Em).

When you put together this body of work over the last four seasons, there are not many chasers who have proven themselves to be so durable and so often in the reckoning in major races, and while perhaps lacking the turn of speed that some of his rivals possess, Spying On You's genuine staying and jumping ability should never be questioned.

Although the triumph in the 2017 Great Eastern Steeplechase at Oakbank remains Spying On You's only major jumping race win to date, his consistently strong performances in the other major Australian chases are surely worthy of more respect and recognition. Anyone who appreciates jumps racing has to admire the horse's heart and determination, and the fact that he continues to front up and perform, no matter the opposition or the occasion.
